THE SUNDAY JOURNAL SOCIETY DEPARTMENT.

In the absence of Miss E. Nellie Beck, the Society Department of The Sunday Journal, is conducted by Miss Flossie Boyer, Miss Oedie Clubb, Miss Little Williams and Miss Amy Briggs, who compose the senior class of the Pensacola High School.

The saturday of this new society page staff will be at the home of Miss Flossie Boyer, whose telephone number is 417. Readers of The Journal are requested to telephone all society news there and to do so early in the week so that the young ladies may have time to get the matter in shape for publication Sunday morning.

afternoon until late in the evening. The many guests had their fates revealed in dark mysterious corners, by an "expert" palmist, went a-fishing and after paying "postage due" received their mail from Miss Josie Loftin, who acted as postmistress.

During the evening delicious refreshments were served. The occasion was a thorough success financially, as well as socially.

THE U. C. V. RE-UNION AT JACKSONVILLE.

The reunion of the Confederate Veterans, held in Jacksonville last week, was numbered among one of the most enjoyable ever attended by the veterans.

Jacksonville people are counted among the most entertaining and hospitable people in the south, and in this instance they made a new record. The Pensacola veterans say that the only hitch in the programme was the inclemency of the weather, which prevented them from having the usual parade.

One of the touching sights, and one which brought the tears to many eyes grown dim since last resting upon them--was the sight of the tattered battle flags which were exhibited at the auditorium of the Board of Trade.

As the old flags were unfurled the band started "Dixie," and the famous rebel yell resounded through the building and echoed far into the streets. There were war scarred veterans present who had surrendered in the shadows of these same bullet rent banners, and it seemed as if the enthusiasm would never die out as long as the flags were in view.

Each camp was represented by a lovely sponsor, a young daughter of the Confederacy, Miss Genevieve Reed Coulson, of Pensacola was state sponsor. Miss Coulson is well known for her grace of manner and sweet personality, and won the hearts of all with whom she came in contact. She was the guest during her stay in Jacksonville, of ex-Governor and Mrs. F. P. Fleming, and was the guest of honor at a tea given by Mrs. Fleming at the handsome Country Club house.

Mrs. C. B. Rogers, of Jacksonville, tendered the veterans and sponsors a water party on board the yacht Regina.

Miss Coulson returned to Pensacola Friday evening and is very enthusiastic over her reception at Jacksonville, and over the entire event.

Mrs. George Hoffman entertained the Friday evening euchre. The ace prize was won by Mrs. R. J. Loney. Mrs. Will Ferguson won the second prize and the trophy was given to Mrs. Fauria. Miss Dela Pfeiffer won the lone hand prize. Mrs. Fauria will be the next hostess.

A delightful gumbo supper was given by Mr. Hazell Stone, Mr. Marion Hyer, Mr. James Leonard and Mr. Willie Leonard, Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. J. S. Leonard. Besides the hosts, those present were: Misses Ada Green, Louise Quinn, Ida Palmes and Louise Palmes; Mr. Malcolm Young, Mr. Dudley Thornton, and Mr. Anderson Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hyer, Mrs. M. P. Palmes and Mrs. J. S. Leonard. Singing, dancing and other frolics made the evening enjoyable.

Miss Willie Kendrix, Miss Mamie Freeman and Mr. Allen Freeman are visiting at the Southern States Lumber Company's big farm in Baldwin county.

Miss Mary Vaughn is visiting her brother, Mr. J. B. Vaughn, in Bagdad.

Miss E. Nellie Beck, The Journal's Society Editor, who has been spending a vacation of several weeks in Cincinnati, is expected home Friday or Saturday of this week.

Miss Cora Metcalf will leave for her home in Bagdad Tuesday. She will be accompanied by Miss Bessie Williams to spend the holidays.

The removal of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. F. Ryan to Mobile is sincerely regretted by their many friends in Pensacola.

The Excelsior Flinch Club met with Mrs. Frank L. Mayes, Wednesday afternoon but owing to the inclement weather the Sunday School
